Twinkle twinkle little star. How we wonder what you are!

Two days ago, there was a huge war...It was between an Iron Man and a dragon space bat angle that came down from space and landed on planet Earth in Australia! It happened because the dragon space bat angle threatened to eat all the living things on planet earth.

Now the dragon space bat angle was getting angry. He wanted living thing and he would have it state away! They were praying for him not to eat them, they howled "Give us a week and there will be food right in front of you! You already made a fire in a forest!" So the dragon space bat angle agreed and so they had a week to make the food because it would a very big meal!

While the people where making the food the army explained they will take care of the dragon space bat angle and so the army got their guns out and starter to shoot the dragon thousands of times. But the dragon just laughed and laughed. Then the whole world was confused "Why is he not dying?"

Iron man heard about this situation from his friend Hogath (Age Ten). So Iron man decided to do something about it. Then he demanded war! He declared a challenge of strength! The person who could stay in the fire for longest would win. The space bat angle agreed and Yelled "BRING IT ON" So Iron man lent on fire twice then his ear melted off sadly. Then it was the dragons turn. But he came down burnt like a chicken burned for a long time but then the dragon couldn't take it any more so that means Iron man won! The dragon would be his slave and sing beautifully around the world.

We found a quote from iron man and He explained that "It was horrible to feel my ear falling off. But now since I have won I have been sent metal and that's the best gift I could have! I would do it again!" And I found a quote from an eye-witness and she cried out "It was a shocking sight to see but I know that Iron man would win and Halleluiah he won!" And so he did.
